BASKETBALL

SANBORN DEFEATED IN FIRST HARD GAME

On January 15th the basketball five defeated the Sanborn Seminary team 16 to 10. The Sanborn quintet was the heavier one, and if they had had any good shots on their team, the game would have been a much tighter one. As a whole the game could not be counted as good a showing for Dummer's outfit as was displayed in the first game with Immanuel A. A. The slowness and raggedness that was displayed was probably due to new plays introduced in practice between the games.

With three subs in her original lineup, things looked bad for Dummer when Sanborn started off with a rush that kept the ball well in Dummer's territory. However, this pep soon resulted in a foul on Bakertgis. Gove missed the shot, and Sanborn got possession of the ball giving Barber a chance to score on a billiard off the backboard. Gove soon retaliated with a long underhanded shot. The period ended after a foul on Barber, in which Pillsbury missed his chance to raise the score.

The second period started off with Dummer's regular lineup in place, and the game speeded up. Hart and Fitz both failed in quick succession on shots from the foul line, and then the two worked a fast pass down the floor for a goal scored by Fitzsimmons. Barber and Hart both scored one point for their respective teams.

Bakertgis opened the half by scoring on a foul by Fuller. Hart socked in a score to offset this after a snappy dribble the length of the floor from a short pass by Pillsbury. A long pass from Bert Temple to Hart soon after failed, and Sanborn grabbed the ball by a score by Davie. Hart netted the sphere on a snappy short shot almost under the net. Griggs snapped the ball in for another two pins just before the whistle for the end of the third period sounded.

At the beginning of the fourth, Hart and Bottger worked a successful pass, and Hart scored from the middle of the floor. Fitzsimmons dribbled to center and sunk the globe neatly, but Barber retaliated with a short shot off the backboard. These were the last goals of the game, and the only other scoring was made by Sanborn on a foul by E. Temple.

No one in the game played extremely or even very well. Fitzsimmons and Hart were the offensive highlights, and E. Temple put up a good game at

HOCKEY

UNPREPARED HOCKEY TEAM LOSES FIRST GAME

On January 7 the Dummer hockey-ists opened their season at Ipswich with a loss to Manning High by a score of 2 to 0. The Dummer team played a ragged game which consisted of individual dashes on the offence and no organized defence. The passes were few and far between as no one seemed to know where anyone else was. However, as they had just one day in which to get accustomed to skating and stickwork not to mention getting in condition after the Christmas holidays, they have a good excuse.

During the first period Dummer had an edge on the high school aggregation and kept the puck in front of the Manning goal most of the time. Lack of practise and several good stops by the Ipswich goalie were the only things that prevented Dummer from scoring at least twice. Griggs, Hart, and Poor made individual dashes that looked like scoring possibilities; but they couldn't quite cage the puck.

Manning took advantage of Dummer's poor condition to force them to the limit, and the puck stayed in the vicinity of the Dummer cage nearly all the period. About the middle of the period R. Sheppard scored on a long shot that took one bounce and leaped over Sawyer's stick.

The last period showed the two teams on a practically even footing, and the play was not centered around either net. As a result of a last minute attempt to tie up the score with a four man offence, Dummer was scored on in the closing minutes when R. Sheppard slipped away and found Sawyer entirely uncovered. Skating up close he drew him out of the net and slipped the second goal by him. Soon after this the game ended with Dummer having failed to get the puck into the strings.

JINX FOLLOWS HOCKEY TEAM TO MANNING

After a lapse of two weeks during which the Dummer skaters lost all practise and five scheduled games due to poor ice, they finally appeared again on the Ipswich ice on January 24 to play a return game with Manning High. The team fared pretty well but had to bow before the experience of the home team, losing 4 to 2. They were forced to do without Sawyer in the goal on account of scholastic difficulties, and Lovett took charge of the strings.

The game started off evenly enough with Griggs and Poor making individual dashes up the ice and showing traces of team-work at times. Several opportunities to score were passed up because of the bounces the puck insisted on taking at the most inopportune times. Johnny Sheppard scored for Manning in the middle of the period on an unexpected snap from the side of the rink which caught Lovett unawares. This was followed a minute later by Bickerton who sent a sizzler from the center of the rink by Lovett to give his team a good lead. Dummer forwards forced the attack for the rest of the period, but they were unable to combine at the crucial moments, and the opportunities slipped past until the end of the period.

The second period was all Dummer's, and the puck was kept well away from the Dummer net. About mid-period English picked up a loose puck at center ice and skating behind the net, passed out to Griggs who snapped it in immediately for the opening score. Griggs also had a hand in the next one which came late in the period. Skating down center lane he slipped a pass over to Poor who sent one by the Manning goalie to tie up the score. Ipswich again waited till mid-period before showing any results, and then R. Sheppard scored on a long shot about ankle high to give his team a lead. A minute later the orange and black scored on a fluke. On this particular occasion in a scrimmage between Griggs and Goodhue behind the Dummer net, the puck was sent into a drift, and Griggs supposing that the referee would blow his whistle ceased his efforts along with the rest of the team, and the Ipswich contender shot a pass to Bickerton who scored. In spite of protests this was allowed, and the game ended with the score left at 4 to 2.

Time, 3 eight-minute periods. Score, Manning 4, Dummer 2. Goals: Griggs, Poor, J. Sheppard, R. Sheppard, Bickerton 2. Referee: Stuart.

SEXTET TURNS BACK AMESBURY

On January 26 the Dummer hockey sextet waged its tightest battle of the year and came out victorious over the Amesbury High team 1 to 0. The red and white never looked better on the ice, and their pass work and the individual efforts of Griggs kept the puck well in Amesbury territory most of the game. The lone tally came toward the close of the last period on a shot from scrimmage by Dave Hyams. The game was played on the rink in Amesbury with the temperature slightly under the zero mark.

Griggs had the advantage at the first face-off and took the puck well into Amesbury's ice before he lost it. Poor forced the attack along the left lane, and the first period was put in in the region of the Amesbury goal except for an occasional burst of speed from some wing. In the second period Amesbury showed more power and kept the Dummer men working all the time. Sawyer in the Dummer net made several beautiful saves and seemed unbeatable. Dummer, however, finally got the puck away from its net and put themselves in the running for some goals. None were forthcoming, however; for their giant goalie, Mudge, proved as capable of staving them off as Sawyer, and the period closed with the teams still deadlocked at 0 to 0.

Dummer came back for the final period as it had for the first and carried the attack into the danger zone for Amesbury right off. Griggs and Hyams had chance after chance to put it in only to have the puck start to bob or roll. Finally, Hyams took a quick snap from a scrimmage along the boards and the rubber just eluded the goalie's skate for the winning count. Dummer was content to play a more defensive game from then until the end: the forwards going up by two's and checking back to perfection.

THE MONK

O friend in God, O scorner of mankind, unholy
To thine eyes except of darkened
mind and heart
What thinkest thou in garments old and hoary?
Reck'ing 'pon mouldy universe from world apart
O learned monk, why chain bible to the wall?
Nor gaze to see the illiterate world
without Rushing unmindful of Christ the Lord of all.
Art thou his alone or be there any doubt?
That soul in man is not monk alone or otherwise?
Look, Oh look into the world beyond
the pale
See and love all that you so much despise
Come forth once more to seek the Holy Grail
Through forests whispering fleeting welcome:
Turn Argus, Hydra, Briarin all in one

Catching lovely nature, without Bethesda hum

Of Ave Maria, matins, prayers, devoutly sung

If not, fare thee well, O bearer of the cross

What day is thine, what night, what morn,

Save earthly darkness, clammy mould,
and moss?

Art thou human, sleeping deep, forlorn?

O death in life, O living death, farewell

To thee ambrosial, heavenly joys forever

When through the dark, deep earthly Hell

Thy soul goes homeward to its soul
forever.

—Edward G. G. Ladds.

THE BELLS

Oh, the bells, the bells,
The everlasting bells—
All day long they ring,
All day long they sing,
"Now the work of the day
Must be done."

Oh the bells, the bells,
The ringing of the bells—
Every hour they clatter,
All the time they chatter
"Oh the work of the day
Must be done."

Oh the bells, the bells,
Those blasted, cursed bells—
Every morn they yelp,
"Come, ye laggards, help,
For the work of the day
Must be done."

Oh the bells, the bells,
The fiendish, hellish bells—
All the time they scream,
"Time enough to dream
When the work of the day
Has been done."

Oh the bells, the bells,
Those hounding, pounding bells—
Will they never cease?
Will there be no peace?
Shall we never rest?
Never time for jest?
And the bells, the bells
Those clashing, clanging bells—
Always answer us—
Always hideous—
"There shall be no rest
Till you've done your best
And the work of the day
Has been done."

—Anonymus.

ST. GEORGE'S BREAKS DUMMER'S WINNING STREAK

Dummer's basketball quintet collected its first defeat on January 22nd at the hands of St. George's Prep. 22 to 9. After a long ride from South Byfield, the boys met with noble treatment before and after the game. The St. George team was a heavier outfit than Dummer's, and she had a crack defense that stopped some of the best efforts of Hart and Fitzsimmons to net the globe. However, the team showed up very satisfactorily on its first shot at a strange floor, and some very good basketball was put across.

St. George's got the sphere first and took good advantage of the time it took Dummer to get the feel of the floor by scoring almost immediately for two points and shortly after on a foul for still another point. Dummer tightened up some after this scoring, but the St. George forwards crashed through for another goal before Pillsbury came back with a first tally for Dummer. St. George retaliated almost immediately with a shot that cleaved the twine and counteracted Pillsbury's goal. The period ended with a double foul, both Pillsbury and the St. George man making good in their chances to score.

The second period was largely a battle between defenses. St. George scored first on a foul toward the middle of the period, but this was set off by a point to Hart's credit when he scored on a foul. The forwards were all trying to spar for an opening in the defenses of the other team, but goals from the floor were not forthcoming, and the rest of the time went scoreless.

St. George increased her attack in the third period and finally succeeded in slipping the sphere through the net for two points. Dummer was onto their game by this time, and after grabbing one point on a foul, Fitzsimmons popped one in from a billiard off the backboard after a brilliant run through the St. George defense. Dummer's defense outplayed our opponent's in this period.

The last period was St. George's complete victory. Our men were tiring, and the home team put over an attack that netted eleven points. On Dummer's floor, there is no telling what the score would have been since the boys put up a very good game at Newport. Fitzsimmons, Pillsbury and E. Temple all played good games. Hart although playing well, did not run up to the form that he has shown in the home gymnasium. Summary:

MILTON COMES FROM BEHIND TO WIN

On Tuesday, January 25 the Dummer basketball team journeyed to Milton to play their undefeated team. A week ago the Milton team defeated the Harvard freshmen by only one point less than that by which our team was defeated. However, the game was a great success showing what the team could do at its best. At the end of the second quarter Dummer held the lead 12 to 10. Milton had made several substitutions in this quarter and this bunch was run off its feet. Dummer's teamwork in every respect showed up to its best advantage; the passing, pivoting, and shooting as compared to that of the St. George game made them look like a new team. Bill Hart's admirable work in jumping against a center easily seven inches taller than himself must be commended. Fitzsimmons' passing and shooting were a revelation to the team. Pillsbury might be mentioned as our most able underworker besides shooting some nice baskets.

Milton broke into the lead in the first period and got four points on two slow overhead plays. When Dummer finally got the ball Hart and Fitz worked some passes which ended in Fitz making the first score for the visitors. Pillsbury added another point on a foul. Immediately following, Milton ran through four more points half offset by Pillsbury's distant field goal. Milton scored on a foul and the period ended 9 to 5 for Milton.

The next period was all Dummer's. Hart scored four points and Fitz two while Milton could only accumulate one point. The half ended 12 to 10 for Dummer.

The third period opened with Milton making a hard drive to even things up in which they succeeded. During this period Dummer failed to score and it ended with Milton leading 17 to 12. The last period was the fastest and most spectacular of all. Dummer netted two points on fouls by Pillsbury and Fitz contributed two more on a pretty field goal. Milton continued to run up the score, and the game ended 25 to 16 for Milton.

Score: Milton 25, Dummer 16. Field goals: Upton 4, Cheney 3, Beyer 1, Huguley 1, Howland 1, Hart 3, Fitzsimmons 2, Pillsbury 1. Fouls: Cheney 1, Howland 1, Pillsbury 3, Hart 1. Referee: Yeaton. Timer: Smith. Time: 4 eight-minute periods.
